

I am a listener and supporter of KLOVE. I listen to this station both in my home and in my car. It provides me not only with the Christian music I enjoy, but it also provides me with information about local and national news, weather, traffic, you name it--all commercial free, which I am glad to be a part of by supporting them financially monthly. I was appalled to hear that this station might be replaced by an LPFM broadcaster. I have come to count on this station for what I have mentioned above as well as a personal supporter in time of need in the way of prayer and the promise that I will hear only uplifting and morally based music and talk on this station, which is incredibly important to me as a christian mom of two who are almost always present when I am listening. I believe this station to be unreplaceable. Many like me share my sentiments and will be horrified if this station we have come to love and have welcomed into our homes and our lives for so long is taken off the air. It will literally be like losing a friend. Please do not do this!
